SCHOOLS OPENED ON TUESDAY

The public schools locally as well as the county opened for the present school year, Supt. Walter Boyer indicated the opening of the local school with a full faculty. Several of the teachers will be new to the pupils. The school cafeteria operated on the opening day as usual. Mrs. Donna Finney has resigned her place in the dining room and has been succeeded by Mrs. Mary Neal.

A welcomed improvement in the new 'black-top' dressing for the play grounds at the rear of the building. This will mean a cleaner building as there is little need of pupils being in mud during a rainy season. Only part of the play ground has been covered with the water proof material.

The schools opened with an enrollment of 448, which will be increased as the days go by.

Labor Day Celebration Drew Many For Annual Home Coming

Labor Day was a Great day in Cedarville.

It was a day of reunion for home-comers.

Cedarville carved a nick in the walls of time with the Labor Day celebration.

It will be better known for what has been accomplished through the sons and daughters that have gone on after completing life's task.

Decorated business houses and residences informed the traveler that Labor Day had a special meaning this year of 1945. Order and deportment was all that could be asked.

The three day event opened Saturday night with a concert on the square by the High School band. This was followed by an entertainment in the opera house and a packed house was the report.

The usual church service marked the Sunday morning in local churches. Sunday afternoon the Community sign in the opera house drew a good crowd. There was song singing of the older songs. Excellent numbers by the church choir, the Zion Baptist having one selection. Wilbur Weakley rendered a vocal solo. The other soloists were Miss Phyllis Bryant of the First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Greer McCallister of the United Presbyterian Church and Miss Katherine Charters, Cleveland, for the Methodist Church.

President Ira D. Vayhinger, opened the meeting with the introduction of Supt. Walter Boyer of the Public Schools, this being his first appearance before a local audience since his election as superintendent.

The big event of the celebration and the one that drew a crowd estimated at four thousand people was the program on the College Campus which was in charge of Mayor H. H. Abels. Governor Frank Lausche was on hand early and met many citizens. His address was mainly devoted to labor, peace and good citizenship. He was well received. The tree planting program was in charge of Mr. C. R. Wagner and Governor Lausche handled the shovel as one of experience. Members of the Board of Trustees of the College took their turn along with many of the Kyles, and other citizens. Mrs. Greer McCallister sang "Trees" preceding the actual planting of the Chinese Ginkgo tree.

The afternoon program was featured by contests of all kinds, baseball game, baby show, and other events. We will give the list of winners in our next issue.

BOY AND GIRL SCOUTS ALSO HAD A PART IN SHOW

Many persons were better acquainted with the work of both the Boy and Girl scouts. The boys had their scout headquarters on E Xenia ave and the setup for scout life attracted many people. The Girl Scouts displayed their craft work in different store windows. Both organizations deserve much credit for their displays.

OLD AND YOUNG FROLIC ON LABOR DAY EVENTS

One of the features of the annual Labor Day celebration is the part both young and old find for amusement. Babies in arms as well as the aged and infirm manage to enjoy the day. One of the elders here was Mrs. Mary McDonald, 91, Xenia, who visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McCallister. Another was the aged William Kyle, 96, Xenia, a cousin of Senator James H. Kyle. Age did not bar Mr. Kyle from taking the shovel and adding his bit of dirt around the tree on the College Campus. Andrew H. Creswell, who was a playmate of the late Senator in school days, added a number of shovels of dirt for good measure. It was all amusement to the hundred that crowded the campus.

KYLES ALSO MADE A HOLIDAY IN HONOR OF NAME SAKE

The Labor Day celebration made it possible for many members of the Kyle family to gather at the home of Mrs. J. E. Kyle, N. Main st. Many of the family occupied chairs reserved at the planting of the Ginkgo tree on the College Campus. A covered dish dinner was served at the Kyle home. A number of out of town members of the family were present.

ATTRACTIONS DRAW MANY TO VIEW PICTURES AND ART

Provision was made in the Bird-Confarr room for the art display and this was greatly appreciated. The display in the interest of Cedarville College covering more than fifty years of its existence was an outstanding feature. The display of pictures of individuals and groups covered members of the faculty, groups of students and graduates and of course pictures of baseball and football teams. It was an opportunity to renew old acquaintances by pictures. The crowd was so great Saturday night the doors of the Huey room had to be closed for a time. The display was under the direction of Mrs. Elmer Jurkat.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND DREW COMPLIMENTS FROM ALL

Cedarville people are prouder today of the high school band than before the three-day celebration. Many more people have had the opportunity of hearing the group for the first time. The concert on the street Saturday night, the program on the College Campus and another concert Monday night added much to the success of the celebration. The band is under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Foster, head of the music department of the public schools. Her work in musical lines is always outstanding. There was no need for apology from anyone because the group had not held practice during vacation.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION PUBLICISED FAR AND NEAR

We doubt if any annual event ever held in the country drew as much publicity over the nation as did the event Monday. Honoring a former Senator as a native son; the appearance of Governor Frank Lausche and he himself made possible for wide publicity. The leading press associations sent out feature stories and both radio and the press aided much in drawing the big crowd. The importance of the day was recognized by letters from prominent officials. Mayor Abels read letters from the platform Monday from Gov. M. Q. Sharp, of South Dakota; Sen. Kenneth McKeller, President Protem of the Senate; Con. Clarence J. Brown, Washington, D. C.; Mayor James Garvey, Chicago and from Ohio CIO headquarters by George De Nucci, Act. Treas. and Sec. letter from the former Cedarville girl, Miss Eleanor Parker, noted screen actor, North Hollywood brought back recollections to many of the younger group who knew her in her tender years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Parker, Cleveland, formerly of this place. "L. D." was formerly of the College faculty and later superintendent of the local schools at the time the present building was erected.

COLLEGE ALUMNI MET AFTER TREE PLANTING

A large number of members of the College Alumni Association and former students gathered in College Hall to discuss business in connection with the College. A sum of money was raised to carry out a certain program.

ALONG FARM FRONT E. A. Drake, Co. Agricultural Agent

EGG COOP BEGINS OPERATION
The Ohio Valley Egg Cooperative truck will make the first pickup of eggs in Greene county, Friday, Sept. 7th. Members are asked to save their eggs and to case them if possible. If they do not have cases, the truck driver will carry a supply and can case them.

Members are urged to start shipping eggs if they are not selling to a hatchery. While the egg situation looks bright now a surplus of eggs is expected within a few months which will be burdensome.

75 MAKE CONSERVATION TOUR
Seventy-five farmers and their families visited the O. D. Blubaugh farm in Knox county last Friday. The group had a picnic dinner at the Blubaugh farm followed by a tour of the 140 acre farm.

The farm which was abandoned by its former owner because of the low productivity of the soil is very hilly. Since acquiring it Mr. Blubaugh and his two sons have restored the soil by the use of lime, phosphate and contour farming. Legume crops receive preference and every water conserving measure is being used.

MAY NEED TO SALVAGE
FROSTED CORN
Continuation of cool weather and occurrence of frost on the normal date may hinder the ripening of 15 to 20 percent of the corn crop to an extent that will make necessary special harvesting or storage methods to save the immature corn.

Green corn may be put in the silo. Another way to save it is to hog it down or it may be fed direct from the field to cattle or other livestock. Special care will be required to store corn which has more than 20 to 30 percent moisture when hit by the first frost. Special cross ventilation should be provided in cribs. Adding one pound of salt to 100 pounds of corn in the crib will help control molding.

POTATO CEILING PRICE—

The ceiling prices for potatoes are the same as a year ago. The ceiling for August is $2.70; Sept., $2.55; Oct., $2.45; Nov., $2.55 and Dec. $2.65. The prices are for U S No. 1 potatoes f. o. b. farm. For ungraded potatoes subtract 30 cents and for Size A potatoes add 10 cents.

The farmer selling to consumer, the price at the farm is ceiling plus $1.

BANGS DISEASE CONTROL PROGRAM

Dairymen meeting with State Veterinarian Hyde at Wooster got the first outline of how the million dollar appropriation for Bang's disease got first call on indemnity funds and veterinarians services. Application for area tests may be filed; but where infection is known to be heavy, it will be policy to recommend that individual herd owners file applications for accredited herd supervision. Dr. Hyde expressed hope that infection can be cut down by clean up of badly infected herds before area tests are begun.

NEW WEED KILLER—

Research men of the USDA say that the new weed killer, 2-4-D, which sold under various trade names, is not the answer to the boy's plea for something which will make hoes and cultivators unnecessary in the production of garden and field crops.

The material is reported to be sure death to some weeds but to have much less killing properties on others. It will remove dandelions and plantain from lawns without injuring the grass. On the contrary it appears to over-stimulate some plants and the abnormal growth causes death. The plants are killed by loss of starch which they use as food, and the abnormal growth is associated with the disappearance of the starch.

CULL DEATHMARKET PULLETS

Since death of laying hens is one of the most serious barriers to profits from egg production, laying-house mortality can be reduced by culling out the death-marked pullets before they start egg laying.

Research men at Cornell University find there is a definite relationship between the physical signs of vigor in the pullets and the length of time they will survive in the laying house. Pullets which lack yellow pigment and which are under weight are very poor risks. Cull out the pullets which have pale shanks and bills. These alone with the under weight birds can be fattened and sold without incurring the total loss which results from early deaths in the laying house.

Mrs. Ross Smith and daughter, Mrs. James Gregory and son, Dwight of Cuyahoga Falls, O., spent the week here with friends.

LAW LANDS ON 'SLOTS' IN DICE RAID

Prosecutor Marcus Shoup with the aid of special deputies and Deputy Sheriff Confer and Anderson, raided a trailer camp on Route 69 near Osborn that had become famous for different kinds of gambling, last Saturday night.

The officers detained forty men as a dice game was in operation. Equipment confiscated included a gambling table, and two slot machines were captured.

Virgil Webster, Dayton, will be arranged before Common Pleas Judge P. L. Johnson on a charge of operating a gambling game.

Cong. Jenkins Raps OPA-AG. Dept.

Cong. Thomas A. Jenkins, Republican, Ironton, O., chairman of the food study committee of the House directed an attack on the OPA and the Agricultural Department of flouting the intent of congress by maintaining quotas on local live stock slaughtering. Congress passed a bill prohibiting quotas on slaughtering.

A manslaughter charge is recommended to Prosecutor Marcus Shoup. Keogh was well known to the print paper trade in the Miami Valley.

THE CEDARVILLE HERALD

KARL BULL — EDITOR AND PUBLISHER
 Entered as second class matter, October 31, 1887, at the Postoffice at Cedarville, Ohio, under the Act of March 1879.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1945

A TASK WELL PERFORMED

The three-day celebration that ended Labor Day was an event that will not soon be forgotten. First because of the object of the event, recognition of the effort of the late Senator James Henderson Kyle, former Cedarvillian, to be publicly credited as being the father of the September holiday through his bill that passed the Congress in 1894. Next that no community affair in recent years, save probably the 100th anniversary of the founding of the village in 1916, gave the public more real pleasure and wholesome entertainment than the event that closed Monday night. There were so many good things we can not give praise for all singly. The public was pleased with the program and the home-comers well repaid for their returned visit. The community owes much to the Progressive Club and to all who so generously cooperated with President W. W. Gallo and his associates. This year's event has set a high mark for those who may have charge next Labor Day.

PEARL HARBOR STORY MUST BE TOLD IN FULL

Now that Congress is back in session and reports so varied as to the truth and falsity of the Pearl Harbor incident, public interest is going to demand that all cards be laid on the table. So far nothing of importance has come forth other than a squabble among administration Democrats as to who is and who is not responsible for the temporary loss of the Philippines to the Japs. Every effort was made while Franklin Roosevelt lived to have an investigation. He ordered the retirement of Adm. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Short but he would not permit a court-martial hearing. Both high officers asked for an immediate hearing but it was refused time after time.

Since Japan has surrendered demands are being made in and out of Congress for a hearing. Both officers still insist on immediate action. The Democrats for some reason or another fear any kind of a hearing. One government agency charged Gen. Marshall as responsible. A Democratic faction charged Secretary Hull as being responsible. It is plain the Democrats are looking for a "goat" to protect the record and escape party responsibility for what a dead man did. One needs no more proof that something is "rotten in Denmark" than to survey the antics of administration leaders. President Truman is adding nothing to his stature by holding back any record that might be in the White House office that would shed light on the issue. It is evident that both Kimmel and Short have "an ace up their sleeve" and might if given a chance to change the picture and place the blame where it belongs. All in all we had given so much of our war material away to Britain and other nations already in the war that we were caught helpless. Any school boy would know as did the Japs that we could not give away our protection and have it in an hour of need any more than the boy could still "have his cake after eating it."

Congress should force the issue in behalf of the thousands of our boys now in Japanese prison camps and in the name of the hundreds that have given their lives in the Pacific theatre of war. Both majority and minority leaders in Congress should bring out all the facts in this issue regardless of who might be involved.

HOW THEY DID WEEP FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Elliott Roosevelt in his financial escapades has turned the spotlight of publicity on not only his private affairs but the income of the family during the time they resided in the White House. Congress has been delving into the $200,000 loan given by a chain store owner to Elliott with worthless paper as the only security. The name of FDR figures in the loan right at a time the government was bringing suit against the chain store company. What connections the loan may have had with the pending suit will never be known until Congress makes its report on the investigation.

Regardless of the fact the family took the No. 1 seat after the first inauguration, even though it was in the days of the depression, bank closing and WPA, yet prosperity soon fell into the lap of some members of the family. At that time the public knew nothing of Elliott and little about Mrs. FDR. As for earning capacity none ever knew they had reached the salary list of a Wall Street operator, one of the mean old hoggish gentlemen that FDR once termed the "money changers in the temple." That the harvest for the family as a whole must have been abundant, those in the knowing say the family income in the period of White House residence reached two and one-half million dollars.

One of the first business ventures in the family was that of young James, whose maiden effort was a partnership in a Boston company. He was made vice president of the company at $15,000 a year. Regardless of the fact that James had no experience in the insurance business his company began picking off insurance business that netted rich returns. Old line companies complained when they lost the business and charged it was due to White House influence. Meantime sympathetic appeals were coming from the White House for support of the unemployed who finally landed leaf raking jobs under the rest cure system as outlined by the WPA.

Mamma Roosevelt did not do bad either back in those gloomy days when corn meal and apples were peddled to all that applied. In the period from 1933 to 1945 it is estimated Mamma drew down a total of $900,000 selling soap, shoes, and what-nots over the radio. She also had a fat investment in the "My Day" daily syndicate. James is said to have taken down some $460,000 from the insurance business. He made connections with a motion picture company at a big salary and helped run the war as a side issue drawing a princely salary as a high officer. James soon earned the title of Wall Street operator due to his many successful business ventures—at least concerns that paid big salaries. For instance he drew $35,000 as president of a yeast company. As vice president of a motion picture company he drew $3,000 a month salary. By this time Elliott reached the first page with his $200,000 loan, approved by "Dad". It is this congress is investigating. The investigation shows that Elliott borrowed some $1,175,000.00, which is doing quite well even for the son of a president of the U. S. Then we recall that FDR sold a lot of government papers from the White House office to a newspaper syndicate for a mere $100,000, which he reported was used to erect a museum on the Hyde Park estate to house "state papers". Congress should do two things, file a copy of the report on Elliott's doings; and the suggestion by a Democratic senator that Congress should appropriate $50,000 annually to maintain and police the Hyde Park estate so the family might have a place for abode in case the family had to seek shelter when the next economic storm blows us into a second depression. The Democratic senator offers no suggestion for shelter for the average Democratic leaf raker that might get caught in the storm.

Eight to ten million men and women are to be out of work by January say administration leaders while industry reconvert to peacetime goods and former lines of merchandise. Now we hear cries of unemployment insurance to care for the unemployed—say $25 weekly for 26 weeks. Those who made the big war-time wages of ten and twelve dollars a day are broke or badly bent. However a small percent have saved money. Some yet have their war bonds. Some have purchased a home. This is fine. What this larger percent has squandered is now of little or no use for the reconversion period. Now we hear of the need for another "WPA" or something similar. Such movement must be financed with tax money. Property or income taxes. There is a background of the old Roosevelt spending fever in the Truman administration—make prosperity by taxing those who have saved to support those who have thrown or gambled their money away. The wild administration spends think nothing of national or private debt but cry inflation—to throw dust in the eyes of the public. That was the Roosevelt spendthrift rule. France tried that after the first world war by issuing bonds that have and never will be paid. Some one should whisper to Mr. Mr. Truman should know now that a burdensome debt is far worse than inflation and might make your war bonds as valueless as those issued by France over twenty-five years ago.

Compare the plight of the spendthrift farmer, the one who buys and pays on credit—until he cannot pay—he has operated on his savings he a soon broke. If he operates on borrowed money, he is sold out. In either he is down and out—just like the $10 a day war worker that is now out of a job and broke, as administration leaders admit is the case. The fellow who has saved his money is to be taxed or penalized to support the spendthrift. The professional man on modest salary, who has been the goat under the New Deal, must pay his little income tax to pile up a fund to feed his wild spender of war days. The farmer that went wild financially has no place to go for succor but the alms house or start over as a day worker.

Greene county farmers can look forward to the time when their land and holdings, along with town property to the time when federal taxes will be levied on them to feed the extravagant spenders of war days. If not directly, then indirectly he will pay his share of the cost. Manufacturers of farm machinery and household goods will cost more with higher corporate taxing. To hold down the cost of living farm prices will be at a new low—now that we have free trade under Truman who can let in all kinds of farm crops, livestock from all over the globe where labor will be less than half what American farm labor can possibly be. This will not be a very healthful condition for the farmer who has gone in debt for land or for farm operation, either loans from Uncle Sam or from the hometown bank. The same government that is loaning money compels repayment to it and it also tells the bank to close in on the farmer when notes remain unpaid.

Unemployment is largely a government or administration baby. Manufacturers in hundreds of cases are and have been ready for weeks to manufacture peace-time goods. The administration wartime red tape is still a round business management. The owner of an industrial plant knows more about his problems than some soft-headed Democratic squirt down in Washington that would have to turn in his last collar and tie to get a $10 loan at any bank in the country. As long as OPA fixes prices certain articles needed in the home and for wear will be scarce. When a manufacturer must sell his goods without a profit, you will not find those goods on the store counters. We mention a few. Underwear for old and young. Overalls for the factory worker and farmer as well as the ten-cent canvas gloves. One manufacturer of canvas gloves refused to sell his 100,000 pair stock at 10c because of increased labor cost and added social security taxes. His profit the year previous was only one cent per pair. His added labor cost was a fraction over one cent a pair. The OPA refused to grant one cent increase in whole sale price. The manufacturer still has his gloves. The factory worker and farmer had to go note book just how many places you were able to get 10c gloves the past six months. Dealers sold out long ago and conditions must change if there is a ten cent glove on the market this winter. Southern cotton growers are campaigning to hold back cotton from the market due to low OPA prices. In the meantime knitting mills have not cotton for winter wear. Ohio farmers might tear out a page from cotton rules and apply same to livestock. The OPA has no interest in profit for the farmer. It was created that others might eat at the farmer's expense.

The output of the New Deal crackpot bureaucrats.

Another red tape rule has been hit the farmer. The New Deal is not dead but is hiding behind a screen. Farmers must get a permit to kill or have killed their own hog for their own use. The same rule applies for cattle and sheep. Just the creation of a close-watch being kept on the barn lot for dead hogs, cattle and sheep. There must be something new each week to keep the tax-eaters on the government payroll. It is said the order was issued to hit the miners who paid more than ceiling prices for young porkers to have more meat. The miner retaliates with—no meat no coal. Bureaucratic bungling puts the home owners in a tight place for his coal supply.

Joseph Stalin has just let it be known that part of his pay for entering the war against Japan was to be a group of islands in the Pacific. The deal was made by FDR at Yalta according to Stalin. It so happens part of the islands wanted by Russia are those the U. S. need for air bases for military protection. Some of these days when Stalin gets all he wants we will discover the story that he has gone over the country about Joe dressing a "psycho" up as a waiter to serve the wants of FDR at Yalta, must have been true. The "Dr." reported to Joe that he was dealing with a very sick man. It is seldom that this type of "Dr." treats goats or corns. He is a high grade brain specialist.

As we read the "letters from subscribers in various city papers, we are not so sure President Truman has hit a popular cord in urging the drafting of eighteen year old boys. Schools and colleges suffer most. Parents on farms need the boys if crops are to be harvested. Mothers write tearful appeals for release of their sons. Most letters on releasing of men over seas on the point system are critical. One writer wants to know why the President does not withdraw the 35,000 youths of draft age in government offices that were exempted by FDR and put these young Democratic slackers in service over in Japan.

The Dayton Journal some days ago said some 6,000 employees at Wright and Patterson Fields are to get the permanent vacation slips this month. Hundreds have quit already and have taken jobs in industry where they can expect steady employment. One of the military brass hat is quoted as saying we will have to police Japan for at least twenty years with not less than 500,000 of our boys. This will be read with interest where boys in Democratic families will fall into uniform at 18 years of age.

Mr. Truman did his best if it was his worst blunder when he attempted to put the blame of the Pearl Harbor attack on the American people. How could the preachers prevent the attack? How about the farmer, the housewife, the painter or ditch digger have kept the Japs out of Manila? It was a poor effort to shield the record of a dead man. Whitewash is a good thing when used in its proper place. Kimmel and Short have a story to tell and the Democrats should give them a chance. They may have some papers as evidence such as telegrams of instructions on what to do. Why kick Gen. Marshall around? Everyone is convinced the White House had full knowledge of what the Japs were preparing to do. You may recall at the hour of the attack so to speak, a Jap was occupying a chair at the White House feeding the Commander-in-Chief his favorite dish, taffy and self-praise. Mr. Truman might just as well indict a six months babe in the crib for the Pearl Harbor disaster as to try to unload on the American people. The people elected a President to protect our interests and act as Commander-in-Chief. The public was at tending to its own business and depending on its President to fulfill his sworn duties.

LEGAL NOTICE

Common Pleas Court, Greene County, Ohio.
 Donald J. Kommnick, Plaintiff, vs.
 Betty Lou Kommnick; 3210 7th Av. Dorn, D., Room No. 160, Seattle, Washington, Defendant.
 Betty Lou Kommnick, 3210 7th Avenue, Dorn, D., Room No. 160, Seattle, Washington, will take notice that on August 28th, 1945, Donald J. Kommnick, her husband, filed suit for divorce against her on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. Said cause is No. 24056, of the Records of Common Pleas Court of Greene County, Ohio. Said Betty Lou Kommnick must plead to the Petition before the expiration of six (6) weeks from the date of the first publication of this notice to-wit, September 7th, 1945, or judgment may be taken against her.

 DONALD J. KOMMICK, by Smith, McCallister and Gibney, His Attorneys.

For Sale—Chickens, fryers, 3 1-2 lbs. C. C. Brewer, Phone 6-2251.

The mayor of Odessa, Texas, issued a proclamation "under the authority given me by the constitution of the state of Texas." He appoints "every property owner in Odessa a special officer who, upon being sworn in by me, will have full authority to protect his life and property at all times."

Against whom? Against "America's No. 1 Enemy" that has "forced our dairies, out of existence, starved our children for want of milk, almost stopped the raising of cattle—confiscated our homes—forced many old people to go hungry because they cannot realize sufficient income under the present dictatorship to pay taxes, much less eat."

He refers to OPA—Gov. Andrew Schoepel of Kansas has boiled over also. A soldier discharged after 25 months duty overseas tried to get an oil stove so he could resume housekeeping. The OPA rejected the application on the ground that the soldier had not been burning oil for six months! The governor is mad. So is Kansas.

Maraboo, Wis., Chairman of ration board quits after 1000 citizens gather at court house protesting OPA penalties against 300 farmers who are charged with selling eggs above the ceiling.

The above are just a few items of the weekly grist we gather from exchanges. We could add some more experiences from even Montgomery and adjoining counties. Many local boards are not at fault, they are but following orders from Washington. Chester Bowles was appointed to head the OPA by Franklin D. Roosevelt. If you can name a successful appointee in private life that was named to a place of prominence and responsibility by the late FDR, we will award a cromo. Don't always blame the local draft boards. Center your fire on the New Deal bureaucrats in Washington.

WAR NOT OVER FOR SUGAR!

WHY you can't get all the Coca-Cola you want

According to the latest word from the United States Government: the World has to GROW more sugar before we can get enough to make all the Coca-Cola you want.

The U. S. sugar bowl is almost empty, and will be for the rest of this year. (No sugar at all from the Philippines; far less than normal from Cuba, Puerto Rico, Hawaii.)

Sugar rations have to stay cut 50% for industrial users, which means that we can make only half enough Coca-Cola to supply the normal demand.

Please try again if your dealer has to tell you he is out of Coca-Cola. We shall continue to do our best to see that all dealers, in all localities, share and share alike in all the Coca-Cola we can make.

The quantity of Coca-Cola is reduced; the quality, never. You will still enjoy the original thirst-quenching flavor, the energy-with-refreshment, that for 59 years has made the world say, "There is nothing like Coca-Cola except Coca-Cola itself!"

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., of the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for September 9

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

A NATION GOD USED

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 41:46-57.
GOLDEN TEXT—He hath given meat unto them that fear him; he will ever be mindful of his covenant.—Psalm 111:5.

Conservation of natural resources—that phrase has a modern touch to it, and yet we would do well to turn back to the story of Joseph in Egypt and learn anew the importance of not wasting what we have if we are to be fed in the days of shortage.

Certain it is that we should face at once the shameful record of waste in the manufacture and sale of intoxicants. This is temperance Sunday. Let us not fail to stress this truth.

Joseph recognized the provision of God and made use of it for His glory and the good of the people.

I. Food—God's Provision (vv. 46-49).
As men work with God in the cultivation of the land they are apt to begin to think of themselves as producers, when they are actually only the servants of the Lord in the orderly care of that which He provides.

We need to renew our sense of complete dependence upon God lest we become proud of our own supposed attainments and forget Him. Then He will have to withhold His bountiful hand and we shall stand with empty measures.

Remember, too, that what God has given to feed the nations cannot with impunity be used for the manufacture of intoxicating beverages which are designed and used for no good purpose—only for destruction. Let's not forget that God could send us a famine, too!

The manner in which Joseph cared for the gathering of the grain is worth noting. He did not sit in his royal office and send out an edict. He went throughout the land building storehouses, seeing that the grain was properly conserved.

We need more of that personal touch in government. Too much of life is controlled by "directives" and "rules" with little of the touch of human kindness and a personal knowledge of the needs of the people.

Observe also the wisdom of storing the food in the place where it was raised and where it would eventually be needed. No shipping and re-shipping, no undue centralization, and no temptation to form a special "grain bureaucracy."

II. Family—God's Gift (vv. 50-52).
From among the Gentiles, Joseph took himself a bride. While it is not indicated, we have reason to assume that she was a believer in the true God. One cannot imagine a man of Joseph's character and spiritual integrity marrying an unbeliever.

The sons which came into the home were recognized as God's gift. Note how God was counted into the life of these boys and of the home.

We spoke above about the need of conserving grain. Think now of the infinitely more important conservation of boys and girls.

The liquor interests have used this war to create a taste for beer on the part of millions of young men and women, both in the armed services and in our war plants. They have broken down the objections and the religious principles of many and we are almost at the point where one who objects is regarded as a foolish fanatic.

If America cannot with impunity use her grain to make booze, do you think God will hold us guiltless if we stand idly by and let the rapacious breweries and distilleries take our boys and girls? It is high time that we awakened to our responsibility and stood up for our convictions, come what may!

III. Famine—God's Opportunity (vv. 53-57).

Now the time had come when God's word to Joseph was proved to be true. When His loyal servant stood before the world as the one who was in touch with the infinite One, he had the food to give out because he had obeyed God's command.

It is in the crises of life that the things of God prove themselves. When man's hand drops in weakness and despair, God steps in and does the abundant thing; that is, if we are willing to recognize Him.

There is another sense in which the coming of famine was God's opportunity, for it gave Him the chance He wanted to speak to men. In the days of plenty and prosperity mankind is self-sufficient and too busy to listen to God, but when there is no food to eat, he has time to hear God.

One wonders, with a wonder that is almost agonizing at times, whether America is going to force God to bring hunger of body to her children in order to make their hearts hunger for Him. Will we wait to cry out to God until we have felt the sharp pangs of hunger, or will we by our obedience and gratitude of heart encourage Him to continue His abundance toward us? Reader, how do you feel in your own heart?

Cottons de Luxe

Cottons are going places this spring and summer. Many women think so highly of them, they are planning a wardrobe made up almost entirely of swank cotton weaves. This pretty frock of mint-cool chambray will be just the thing to wear for an afternoon date. It has an interesting neckline and modish cap sleeves. The plaid gingham peplum is detachable, which goes to show what clever things are being done in way of interchangeable accessories. This peplum on, and that peplum off, gives you two costumes in one. As to the gloves of matching gingham, they are right in step with fashion's idea as to what's what in high-style costume accents.

Lovely Fabrics for Fall Wedding Gowns

The autumn bride is assured her dreams will come true in regard to the traditional beauty of her wedding gown. This season brides will be gowning picturesquely in heirloom satin or rich damask, or in hand-some faille or tissue taffeta. There is a new and lovely material called tissue satin, and there is the stately stand-alone bengaline. Many of the new wedding gowns are being shown in pastel shades. There are portrait types that revive the Renaissance elegance of seed-pearl embroidered panels. Much attention is given to flattering necklines. The sweetheart type outlined with pearls is charming. The narrow high band which gives such distinction to Chinese dresses is a feature of some of this year's bridal gowns.

"They keep asking me for meat!"

Would you trade places with this serviceman's wife?

Added to her constant strain of waiting, she has the entire responsibility of maintaining a home . . . of bringing up the children . . . of keeping them well-fed and healthy. All on a mighty slim budget.

Her children like meat, too, and need it. They always had plenty when Dad was home. Now they keep asking her for meat. What can she tell Junior in answer to his begging?

Actually, their mother could buy her share of meat, at rationing prices, if everybody played square with rationing—if all shared what meat there is.

But the Black Market upsets normal distribution of meat. The selfish few get more than their share. Honest families are forced to go short.

You can help stamp out the Black Market.

If you are a consumer of meat, refuse to pay over calling prices . . . refuse to obtain meat without ration points.

If you are a producer of livestock, sell your animals on the hoof through legitimate channels—slaughter no more for home use or community sale than you did last year—collect and turn in meat points for the meat you sell—destroy meat points for all you use yourself. And then you'll be the kind of citizen that has made America great.

Remember the families of our brave men who fight and die for us. If you have plenty of meat yourself, remember there are other Americans living in sections where meat is dreadfully short.
